An Overview

1.1 Introduction:

The college of Medical Laboratory Technology (CMLT) is a prestigious institution of the country, imparting quality training in the field of Medical Laboratory Technology (MLT) since 1961. The CMLT is one of the integral components of the National Institute of Health (NIH) Islamabad and is widely recognized at the national and international levels. The students of this college have been serving people all over the country and abroad, earning foreign exchange and good name for the country.

1.2 Mission:

To strengthen the goal of National Health Care Delivery System through Human Resource Development by providing high quality academic and practical training in the field of Medical Laboratory Technology (MLT).

1.3 Aims & Objectives:

- 1.3.1 To produce well-trained and qualified Medical Laboratory Technicians and Technologists to fulfil the national needs for health laboratories.
- 1.3.2 To provide laboratory tutors for Para-medical Training Institutions in the country and abroad.
- 1.3.3 To equip trainees with basic theoretical and practical knowledge for acquiring special skills at a later stage.
- 1.3.4 To make them fully conversant with public health subjects and technology of medical laboratory services.
- 1.3.5 To prepare manpower ready for active participation in different disease surveillance and control programs lunched by the government from time to time, especially to combat severe fatal communicable diseases.
- 1.3.6 To inculcate basic human and Islamic values in the students so as to make them professionally sympathetic and considerate in their practical approach at the national and international levels.

1.4 Brief History:

The CMLT was initially established as School of Medical Technology (SMT) at Karachi in 1961 and a certificate course of one year in the field of MLT was initiated. It was the first school in the field of Medical Laboratory Technology in Pakistan. It was established by the Government to meet the ever-increasing demand for competent and well-trained medical laboratory technicians. The SMT, along with other components of National Health Laboratories (NHL), Ministry of Health, was shifted to Islamabad in 1965. In 1970, the one year course was extended to one & a half year to incorporate the new developments in the field. In 1980, the NHL became National Institute of Health (NIH), an autonomous body of the Ministry of Health, Government of Pakistan. Hence, the SMT became a fundamental and mandatory component of NIH. In 1983, the duration was further increased to 02 year academic diploma course to equate with the intermediate level of formal education of the country. Later, the 02 years MLT diploma course was converted to HSSC MLT in affiliation with the Federal Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education Islamabad. In 1989, the status of the School SMT was upgraded to the college CMLT, and 02 year BSc (MLT) classes were started with affiliation from the University of the Punjab, Lahore. In accordance with “National Education Policy 1998 to 2010” and “Education Sector Reforms, strategic Plan 2001 to 2004” and as per the guidelines of the Higher Education Commission of Pakistan, a 04 year BSc (Hons) MLT degree program was started in 2007, in affiliation with King Edward Medical University, Lahore. In 2012, the college was affiliated with the University of the Punjab, Lahore. Presently, the college is affiliated with Shaheed Zulfiqar Ali Bhutto Medical University (SZABMU), PIMS, Islamabad. Moreover, the degree title BSc (Hons) MLT has been changed to BS Allied Health Sciences Medical Laboratory Technology (BS-AHS (MLT)).

1.5 Medium of Instruction:

The medium of instruction at CMLT for all academic training is English. However, clarifications are also made in Urdu, if necessary. The Foreign candidates seeking admission to the college must have sufficient command over English language. Moreover, English is a compulsory subject for HSSC-MLT & BS-AHS MLT.

1.6 Campus:

The college building consists of HSSC & BS-AHS (MLT) blocks situated within the main campus of the National Institute of Health, Islamabad. In addition to offices of the college administration, the building has spacious classrooms and fully equipped laboratories. The facilities of the central library, cafeteria, and auditorium are also available for students. The Boys’ Hostel, located near the NIH colony, has all the requisite facilities for its boarder students. It has the capacity to accommodate about 130 students. A separate limited accommodation is available for female students at NIH Colony as well. The Students coming from far-flung areas of the country are given preference for accommodation in the hostels.

1.7 Academic Council:

CMLT issues that arise from time to time, and demand an urgent response and solution after making a prompt decision for implementation, well in time in the interest of the college and students, are recommended and forwarded to the Competent Authority, which is the Chief Executive Officer of the institute, for approval. However, all policy matter issues of the college which need detailed debate and discussion prior to final decision for implementation are referred to an Academic Council that comprises of the following members.

- | | | |
